

Accounting for Trades People & Builders

PFG ACCOUNTANTS & ADVISORS FORWARD THINKING BUSINESS GROWTH EXPERTS

"In the building trades you have to contend with long hours, physical challenges and heavy regulation in addition to constant travel to work sites. It's therefore no surprise that most trades people struggle with their bookkeeping, BAS, tax and business administration. We still find tradesmen who simply pay too much tax and incur fines for non-compliance. We understand the trades and can not only solve these headaches for you but we can help you grow your business using our marketing expertise."

- Manel Darwiche, Principal

Here at PFG Accountants & Advisors we understand the building trades. If you're a carpenter, plumber, roof tiler, electrician or plasterer we can help you with everything from compliance and bookkeeping through to business coaching, marketing and social media strategies. We deal with more than 40 different types of trades and use industry benchmarks to compare your business performance against your peers. We recognise your strengths and weaknesses and will tailor a package of services to meet your needs.

Thinking Of Starting a Trades Business?

Starting a building business is a bit like building a house and the foundations need to be rock solid. In your plumbing, roof tiling or brick laying business you also need solid foundations that include the right tax structure and accounting software. We view your business structure as the corner stone of the business and while there are a number of different options (sole trader, partnership, company, trust etc.) the wrong choice can have significant financial, tax, legal and capital gains tax implications. We examine the key issues like asset protection, your family situation, profit projections and future plans to admit new partners before we make a recommendation. Your choice of accounting software is another brick in the business 'wall' and the wrong choice can be catastrophic. Poor records are one of the biggest causes of business failure in this country and up to date, accurate financial records let you make informed business decisions. We insist your software matches your business needs and level of accounting skill to avoid what we describe as 'computerised shoebox' records.

When building a house you also need the right tools and this rule also applies when starting a business. Apart from the right structure and accounting software you also need plans including your business, financial and marketing plans. We can provide you with a number of these tools including our start up expense checklist to identify all your establishment costs and templates for your business plan, letterhead, business card and cash flow budget.

For a tradesman, your truck, van or ute is arguably your most important business tool. Go to the Useful Links and Forms section of our website and download a free copy of our Motor Vehicle Tax Guide for Tradesmen that details the various methods of claiming your car expenses and the distinction between a business and private trip. In addition, through our affiliate partners we can also assist you to obtain vehicle finance (chattel mortgage, CHP or lease) and get you fleet pricing on your new vehicle that could save you thousands of dollars.
